Challenge

Most of the recruiters are using other established applications for job posting and receiving resumes. Would it make sense for our client to elaborate on developing and marketing these capabilities and try to compete.

Solution

Instead of trying to develop functionalities already provided by other players, Resume sieve decided to integrate with multiple established job posting and candidate application systems such as Zoho Recruit, Greenhouse and Bullhorn.

Challenge

Our client had a great idea for a healthcare application for Indian patients to share their life-altering conditions, their symptoms, treatments, in a social community and connect and chat with patients with similar conditions.

Solution

From our various researches, we derived our unique proposition. Reliable, timely, easily accessible communication, be it with fellow community members or medical professionals, seemed a most critical feature especially considering commute challenges and scarcity of experts locally.

View liveView Case

Challenge

A perfect event management system is needed which could have an edge towards major competitors. A competitive advantage should be a white labelling feature and 5nart started working on it. Multiple events curated for each customers were a challenge.

Solution

Eventorg were built with different modules, where user can set different agenda, Digital badge, speakers, News feed etc. 5nart team came up with more user friendly web-mobile applications which can manage multiple events easily.

Challenge

The existing application was not visually appealing and handling more data within less screen was a challenge. Connecting Tab to external device and plotting the graph based on the output from the device and displaying information in a single screen, that was the challenge put forwarded to the design team.

Solution

The application was created which would be easy to use and navigate for the end user which reduces the complexing of scrolling and more clicking. The graphs are plotted correctly with the information and the graph design is ideal for the Tab interface.
